An unusual phenomenon occurred on Sunday morning when the Rockies could be seen on the far horizon. The clouds changed in shape around them, but the outlines of the mountains remained distinct for some time. We believe that this never was seen from the Hussar district before.

E.I.D. NEWS NOTES

District Officials have been making every effort recently to find markets for hay. The General Manager passed some time with friends in Calgary and other points the early part of the week in an endeavor to place a few carloads to relieve the surplus now on hand. Unusually large crops in other parts of the province and of the west have, however, closed all available markets at present. As a result the District is unable to accept any hay supplies on accounts until the situation improves.

SCHOOL TO RE-OPEN

THURSDAY, SEPT. 1st

Approximately two hundred school students will resume their studies at the Basasso Public and High School on Thursday morning next at 8:30 a.m. Following the two months vacation, most students will be ready and willing to delve into the mysteries contained in the various text books with renewed interest.

A change in the teaching staff has been made this year, due to the resignation of Miss Grace Scherer. Miss Phyllis Plummer, who taught at Rosemary last year, will be the new member on the staff. The remaining teachers will be Mr. S. Moore; Mr. A. B. Currie; Miss C. Murdoch; Miss Winnifred Plummer.

AT PIERSON'S GARAGE

One of the newest type of gasoline pumps is being installed this week in front of Pierson's Service Station. It is electrically operated, and shows its front the amount of each purchase made by motorists. In line with the policy of this already modern service station, the new addition will make a decided improvement to the appearance of the premises.

The local orchestra has been engaged to supply the music for dancers at Hussar on Friday next, Sept. 2. A good time is assured to all who attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald of Gem were week-end visitors at Champion and other northern points. They returned to the Colony on Tuesday.

Democracy Day Meeting Held

In line with all the other "Social Credit" organizations throughout the province, the Basasso group celebrated "Democracy Day" on Monday which was the third anniversary of William Aberhart's sweeping victory in this province. August 22, 1934, was proclaimed by thousands of Social Credit supporters as the beginning of a new era in Alberta. Within the short space of six months all hostile citizens of the province were to receive a $25.00 a month dividend, the interest-free loan, lower taxes, and a clean honest government. Disappointed by these promises, and little knowing or caring, how they were to be accomplished, Albertans placed a Calgary school principal and his instructor in the highest office in the Province.

After six months in office Premier Aberhart, in a speech from the Calgary Prophetic Bible Institute, admitted his failure to bring about the promised millennium and said no date in the future when he expected his efforts to be crowned with success.

In the three years that the party has been in power much of its reported legislation has been either disavowed by the Government or repudiated in the courts. Its original plan failed, its dividend did not materialize, and one member and one advisor of the government were sent to jail.

And this week Social Credit followers celebrated "Democracy Day"—the third anniversary of the government's victory. A group meeting was held to discuss the situation.

In Basasso preparations were made for a large crowd. A local speaker was set up outside the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Morrison, and a radio was installed in the I.O.O.F. hall.

At the Morrison home was advertised a show of strength and to listen to a speech by their leader.

Hail Again Damages District Crops

During last Sunday's sudden, and very strong, wind and dust storm, several outlying districts suffered crop loss by hail, which accompanied the storm. Maplesburg and Gem Districts suffered most severely from the effects of this.

In Maplesburg, a small area just south of the store was totally destroyed. Those reporting loss were H. Jorgensen, J. Clark, F. Nall, B. Bray, C. Jorgensen, and several others.

Harvesting operation on the best crops in the district since 1929 were well under way, some of the fields being destroyed while standing in the stock. It is reported that hail to a depth of about 4 inches lay on the ground following the storm. This is the fourth time in four years that hail has struck the Maplesburg district.

The southern tip of Gem Colony also came in the path of the storm. Here, too, damage was reported on some crops to be nearly 100 per cent.

Edmonton Letter

By T. H. Windsor

Recorder's Edmonton Correspondent.

The Social Credit Party having delayed "Democracy Day" to the third anniversary of the Alberta provincial election in which 54 per cent of the total vote gave Aberhart's group 55 per cent of the legislative seats—the province of Alberta this week was getting ready to start the third year of Social Credit administration.

The "Democracy Day" meetings were held in various parts of the province without any sign of a crowd resembling the 10,000 which Aberhart claimed attended a previous anniversary celebration in Calgary. Nor did the speakers at Monday's talks indicate whether the province should maintain the return of democracy or not for its passing. The speeches generally were the same texts as have been used since early in 1935, but with no accomplishments to discuss.

The governments' financial statement for the fiscal year's first quarter which ended June 30, was made public last week. It showed heavy increases in levies taken from taxpayers in comparison with the corresponding period for last year: a total of $7,117,127 was collected by the government during the first three months of the year.

Total expenditures for that period were $2,917,047 to a total of $5,199,084.

These figures are on the basis of the most optimistic version possible inasmuch as all governments like to collect all the accounts they can, and not pay out much about it.

It is time to stop paying out obligations, when it is time to stop a report. Those expenditures do not include something over three quarters of a million dollars which is being withheld in reduced interest payments on the provincial debt, or $214,000 which was cut from relief grants in comparison with last year.

Domestic government grants for direct relief in drought areas were increased by almost $45,000.

When these items are considered, said observers here, it is obvious that despite the reduced payments and grants, Alberta's government is coming steadily more, although an amount close to $25,000, has been defaulted in the last three years and is not making good on expenditures.

Reduction of 187,727 in the provincial debt, to a total of $16,747,488 was announced for the three months.

Most of the decrease was accounted for in savings certificates of which about $7,000,000 are still outstanding. The total figure on the provincial debt does not include the $7,000,000 interest defaulted, but does include the unpaid and overdue maturities of principal.

The attack by Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario on the Rowell Commission gave Premier Aberhart an opportunity to be heard again. In an address to the legislature, he attacked the Rowell Commission, and the "bankers", although it was later shown that Hepburn was miles astray in the complaint against the federal government.

The complaint which led to his resignation the commission. He thought that the dominion's new gift tax act meant increased taxes by Ottawa whereas there was no such provision in it.

Aberhart jumped to the conclusion that the Rowell commission had been misled, and he said so. It was remarked that inasmuch as Alberta is publishing its own brief which was to have been presented to the commission, that the province must expect some results from the commission, and that if it expected results the government was duty bound to present Alberta's case to the commission.

Publication of that brief at a price of $2.25 per copy, still was being awaited as this week opened. It was long overdue, and it was declared as the legislative buildings, though not by cabinet members, that the province's case to the government was being written in informal sections of it to make it fit in better with the Social Credit party claims. The facts and figures as set out by the first States experts who were hired by the party for the job were not just to the liking of the government. It was declared by the cabinet members and Social Credit "experts" have taken a hand at changing it to fit their economic principles.

Back in Edmonton after his trip to

Gem Notes

(By our Gem Correspondent)

A terrific wind storm swept through the Colony Sunday afternoon followed by hail in the very southern part of Gem. Estimated hail damage is from 40 to 100 per cent. Another storm swept through the northern part of the district the first of August, while last year's storm completely destroyed the crops in the centre of the Colony.

Mrs. Brown honored Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Davis California visitors at a lawn party at her home Sunday afternoon. Those present were—Lakes, Becka, Shinn, Dunsmuir, and Mrs. Rose from Edmonton and Pasadena, and Mrs. Ryan. The party was rather disrupted by the afternoon storm but everyone had a grand time nevertheless.

Mr. R. Edwards left again for Calgary Monday.

Harvesting got general in the District. About 75 per cent of the wheat is cut. Threshing will start next week on the early start.

We report to report that Miss Edna Harwell has been left at the sick list.

A shower was given by the Ladies' Club of Calgary in honor of Miss Harwell last Thursday. Mrs. Harwell and Miss Harwell were invited to attend a tea in the district where Miss Harwell taught last year, and the girls were showered with a number of useful and lovely gifts.

Baby Edwards, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Edwards was taken away from the Gem District. He was rushed to Calgary Friday evening where he was put under the care of Dr. Christie.

Miss Luella and Myrtle Pollock spent the week-end with Mrs. D. Fraser (Mildred Watermark) of Spring Field, and Tuesday with Mrs. Oranger (Jean Plummer) of Brooks.

Two young ladies find their 3 weeks vacation altogether too short. They have been pretty busy calling on their numerous friends and receiving visitors.

The three House boys had their tonsils removed last week. They are now doing nicely.

Mr. Brumble and S. Horvath made a trip Sunday out to the new tract of land that is being opened for irrigation.

Mr. and Mrs. Kemner and Carl were guests at the Bohne home Sunday. Mrs. Kemner and Carl just arrived from California by car about a week ago.

They plan on staying in Alberta until after Christmas. Mrs. Kemner just informed us that Howard was happily married a month ago. He thinks there is no place like good old U.S.A. Of course not.

Elsie Vossler of Medicine Hat visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gihl last week.

Mrs. Maguire and Mrs. Powell were colony visitors last Wednesday. They were dinner guests at the Sandahl home and called on Mrs. Vilel in the afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Hyrre and Mrs. Sandahl.

Among those who attended the ball game in Basasso Sunday, between the Gem and Basasso, were: Mr. Miller, Mr. James, Mr. Standen, Mr. and Mrs. J. James, Mr. Vilel, and the Pollocks.

Sell Lake City and Los Angeles. Provincial Treasurer Helen Lov talked with the Premier for a while and he asked newspapers to quote him as denying that he had intended to try to replace Aberhart as premier.

"All poppycock—the product of a twisted mind," he said.

It is known that Mr. Lov's hopes of arranging a reshaping scheme on his own initiative were dashed on his trip south. He is expected now to return home to present Alberta's case to the quiet insurgency against the present government. In the meantime, Aberhart denied that he planned any change in the cabinet.

Danless of Magistrate A. H. Gibney, of Edmonton, was a highlight of the week-end for the government. He is premier, who is also attorney-general refused to state his reasons for firing the minister, Mr. O'Brien, refused to present his case to the public at once. It is declared however that he had a clash with the government a few months ago over the Powell and Unwin cases, that his government tried to follow to him the procedure to be followed, and that he refused to take orders as to how he should conduct the case or what decision he should render at the preliminary hearing.

A new and harmonious note in travel literature is the latest British "Awa" Book—"Awa" The Canadian Rockies and British Columbia—by Gordon Brintley, with illustrations by her artistic husband, Fulton Brintley. Drawn to Western Canada by a booklet on the pleasure enjoyed by the Brintleys in the Canadian Rockies, the "Travelling Brintleys" spent an entire summer in the pursuit of happiness—and of notes and illustrations for an addition to their popular series of travel books.

London, England, last April, Gordon Brintley, the writer, took of their visit to Calgary to see the West's largest rodeo and prepare for a long peak trip to Mount Asinluip. They spent a week with the B.S. Line Trail Riders and the trail riders of the Canadian Rockies, visiting: Banff, Lake Louise, and the surrounding area. They enjoyed the novelty of living in Indian camps, and the thrill of taking in the clouds, and thrilling to the changing scenery of their surroundings.

Further adventures carried them to such places as: Lethbridge, Edmonton, and O'Hara, and over the Great Divide into British Columbia, and on to Vancouver where they discovered another wild countryside and excellent fishing in the Vancouver area. The two adventures-loving Americans have a long following of readers who will see the Canadian West through their eyes, as narrated by the charming drawings by Mr. Brintley, the blithe and the definite practical information they incorporate in their book for those who would follow in their footsteps.

Teaches Farley To "Draw Long Bow"

Keen appreciation of the wonderful playground, Canada possesses in the Canadian Rockies was expressed by Jim Farley, postmaster-general of the United States and organizer of the Democratic Party, who spent a pleasant few days with his daughters Ann and Betty at the Banff Springs Hotel. While at the mile-high playground, they took part in the various activities usually enjoyed by the international colony there and thoroughly explored the surrounding country by motor.

Mr. Farley, who is noted for the fact that he can call people by their first names years after a single meeting, will have a hard time forgetting Jacob Two Young Man, chief of the Stony Indian tribe, who showed him how to handle a bow and arrow in the accepted Indian style. Interested in the spectacle of the dapper-looking orders from anyone less than President Roosevelt himself are Ann, left, and Betty.

WHY DON'T THEY DO SOMETHING? BUT—WHAT HAVE YOU DONE!

(From the Peace River Record)

Too many people of our district are content to talk among themselves about what we need for our district, but too few are ready to DO anything. It would appear to be the usual wish of everybody to "let George do it" and then wonder why money is not done.

The announcement that the wheat price might be pegged at 70 cents has met with the universal disappointment, yet how many have taken it up to themselves to let the government know what they think. Might be have acted. They are content to leave it to some unnamed organization. Yet if the thousands who talk about these things would write or wire to the proper government department, a cross section of public opinion would be provided that would assist in getting the action desired from our government.

The problem of pegged price for wheat is an example at the moment. Nearly everyone discusses it, but mighty few take sufficient personal interest to act or send a letter or telegram. The Record believes every possible opinion should be passed on to the government for what it is worth and the publisher of this paper has favored the minister of trade and commerce in support of a pegged price of 70c. cents. How many more will follow suit, or how many will wait until the price has been set and then talk some more. A dozen men of direct and definite action, unafraid to do their part, can do more than a thousand gutless wonderers who may be guarding every street corner but who never do anything.

A preacher at the close of one of his sermons said: "Let all in the house who are paying their debts stand up."

Presumably every man, woman and child, with one exception rose to their feet.

The preacher seated them and said "Now let every man not paying his debts stand up." The exception, a careworn individual clothed in last summer's suit slowly assumed a perpendicular posture.

"How is it, my friend," asked the minister, "that you are the only one not able to meet his obligations?" "I run a newspaper," he answered meekly, and the brethren here who stood up are my subscribers, and—" He.
